

99 Human Rights Networks and Organizations condemn the Israeli aggression on Iran and demand an immediate ceasefire

The undersigned human rights networks and organizations condemn the Israeli aggression on Iran at dawn on Friday, June 13, which targeted its nuclear, economic, civil, military, and other facilities with the support and collusion of the United States of America.

The Israeli occupying state continues its aggression against Islamic Republic of Iran and the countries of the region, committing grave violations of international law. These violations include the crime of aggression, which constitutes a blatant violation of the Charter of the United Nations, particularly Article 2, Paragraph 2, which prohibits the threat or use of force against the territorial integrity or political independence of any state. These acts also contradict the principles of customary international law that reinforce this fundamental prohibition.

These hostile acts constitute a continuing violation of the sovereignty of other states and threaten both regional and international peace and security.

The lack of accountability for such hostile acts, which constitute a persistent violation of other states' sovereignty, seriously threatens regional and international peace and security. In this regard, we note that the continuing effects of forms of domination and conflicts left behind by colonialism over decades have contributed to an environment that has ultimately weakened respect for international law and severely hampered efforts to achieve justice and international peace.

This Israeli persistence in committing crimes of aggression, war, genocide, and crimes against humanity would not have continued had it not been for the silence of the international community and the failure of peoples to eliminate the legacy of colonialism and demand an apology and compensation from the colonial powers.

It should also be recalled that targeting the vital interests of states, including energy networks or nuclear facilities, constitutes a grave breach of international humanitarian law, specifically the First Additional Protocol to the Geneva Conventions of 1977, which provides special protection for dangerous facilities such as dams and nuclear installations. Such targeting may amount to a war crime under the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court.

While we condemn these grave violations and the systematic escalation of Israeli aggression, as well as the targeting of civilians and civilian objects, we call on the international community to take immediate and serious action in order to:

- Immediate ceasefire and an end to retaliatory measures.
- Stop the Israeli aggression on Iran, Gaza, Lebanon, and Syria.
- Forming an independent international investigative body to determine the losses and damages caused by these attacks.
- Demand the occupying state, and those who support it, to fully compensate the affected parties and to rebuild what was destroyed by the Israeli aggression and occupation in Iran, Palestine, Lebanon and Syria.
- Implement of UN Security Council Resolution No. 487 of 1981, which stipulates subjecting the Israeli nuclear program to inspection by the International Atomic Energy Agency.
